The property containing the house burned yesterday morning was transferred some time ago by Mr. Achong to Hon. James Campbell, whose return from abroad has been awaited to have the old buildings demolished and a good class of cottages erected in their place.

The new map of Honolulu designed at the Government Survey, has been received from the New York printers. It is on the same scale as the former Fire Department map, and copies can be had of the Hawaiian News Company, Merchant street. About 500 were in the first lot just received.

The station list Friday night had two Chinese for affray and eight natives, including three women, for gambling. In the latter case a native who had been refused payment of a sum won in a Chinese lottery, lately raided by the police, "spun on the racket" with the result of these eight being arrested on warrants.

There was a gaudy attendance at St. Peter's Guild Tuesday evening in the schoolroom of the St. Andrew's Cathedral. Rev. H. H. Gowen's Biblical lecture dealt with events in the life of our Lord, his language and magic lantern illustrations made being attractive and edifying. It occupied about an hour and a quarter and commanded close attention throughout.

A sting-ray fish was exhibited on the streets on Friday, which was a curiosity to such as had never seen one. It is diamond shaped, with a tail resembling a whiplash, or a long rat tail, four or five feet in length. At the base of the tail where it joins the body, are two sharp spikes, three inches in length, which are his weapon of defense. Altogether he has a curious make-up.

Rev. S. H. Davis, rector of Christ Church, South Kona, Hawaii, solicits used stamps to raise funds for the endowment of that church. Friends have collected over 30,000 stamps for him during the past three years. He buys stamps from those who will not contribute them, paying from 7 cents per 100 for 2c, up to $1 per dozen for one dollar stamps, and about the same for stamps of Fiji and Samoa.

The friends of Mr. G. D. Gilman, who formerly resided here and is now a resident of Newton, near Boston, Mass., will be glad to hear of his election to the "General Court" or Legislature of Massachusetts. He was chosen by a majority of 1,500 over his Democratic rival, Mr. Gilman, a man of large experience and liberal views, and his Republican constituents have done a wise thing to select him to represent them in their provincial assembly.

Ke Akai o Hawaii newspaper has suspended publication.

Steamer Kinan sails at 2, instead of her former hour of 4 o'clock, to-day.

More of Bandmaster Berger's lithographed native music has been received by the Hawaiian News Company.

One of Engine Company No. 1's volunteer boys fell off the jumper just after it left the engine house for the fire, and the wheel running over his leg caused severe bruises and straining of the tendon. It was at first thought that his leg was broken, but fortunately it was not so bad as that.

The Honolulu Axmen inaugurated their new musical home in Hayesden Hall by a social meeting there on Saturday evening. It was their regular monthly meeting and there was an attendance of twenty-five members. After business they had singing and a social glass of beer. They have the hall fitted up in very gay style for their purposes.

Notes from the Rainy Town—Fire Protection Needed.

Jules Tavernier has just finished another of his superb paintings of the great volcano El'Ene, somewhat different from any he has previously painted. It does him great credit. He has several unfinished paintings, one of which is an Indian camp, with camp fires, which bids fair to be a valuable work of art.

At the time of the late fire at Hilo the need of a Hook and Ladder Company was spoken of by many, but since there no one seems to feel any interest in the matter. Insurance must be higher here than it would otherwise be, as there is no protection against fire.

New Schoolhouses and Improvements.

At a meeting held on Thursday, the Board of Education resolved upon new schoolhouses or additions at the following places: Elele and Samoewana, Kauai; Napoopo and Hoopuna, in South Kona, Hawaii; Keauhou and Pohakupua, in Hills district; Kauai, Punaehu, Honopuu and Pahala (the last two repairs), in Kau district; Keaue, Hana and Oukala.

HILO NEWS LETTER.

Notes on a Variety of Subjects from Our Correspondent.

Arrived at Hilo, 28th inst., H. B. M. S. Cormorant.

Hilo is delighted to welcome home Mrs. D. H. Hitchcock from America, also Miss Esquire Almeda Hitchcock, who has been absent at Ann Arbor, Michigan, and has returned a full-fledged lawyer.

The young people of Hilo church, Hilo, gave a charming concert on the 29th inst. for the benefit of the church. Undoubtedly there are no people in the world that sing as well as the Hawaiians for the advantages they have had, always sweet and hardly ever a discord. It is ever a treat to listen to them. A company of them would draw crowds if they were to give concerts in America.

For three days Hilo has had copious showers, with thunder and lightning. On 28th inst. particularly the lightning was very vivid and one peal of thunder was louder than has been heard in a great many years. But it did not prevent the assembling of a party of dancers at the rink, who had a good time. The lights were very brilliant, so was the lightning, so were the dancers. As a general thing the female dancers outnumber the male, but on this occasion it was just the contrary. Ice cream in abundance.

Aions, who keeps such a large Chinese store at Hilo, has had full justice done him at Waimea, being fined five hundred dollars for selling liquor without a license. The court has done nobly, more so than ever. It is said he will appeal to Honolulu.

Hilo Republicans, of which there are a good number, were jubilant on receipt of the news per steamer Lehus that Harrison and Morton were elected by such a fine majority, showing that America wishes Republican rule, having tried Democratic (so called) for four years. The Republicans are as lively as crickets and every one is whistling Yankee Doo-ree. W. H. CHILLINGWORTH, Esq., Makaha, or J. E.
